

PRIVACY POLICY

EnergyNow and EnergyNow.ca and their associated trademarks are owned and operated by Enerpoint Imedia Corp. "Enerpoint". Enerpoint web servers automatically collect information about which pages are visited and the domain name (e.g., aol.com) of visitors, but not any information that personally identifies a visitor. This information is used for internal review, to tailor information to individual visitors and for traffic audits. EnergyNow.ca content has to be supported by sponsors, so having aggregate information about visitors helps us build a better site and attract sponsors, whose revenue allows us keep valuable news feeds and data free to our visitors, subscribers and app users.

We use cookies in a limited way to help deliver advertisements and to identify unique browsers that visit us and to track usage throughout our site. Some of our business affiliates and sponsors may use cookies, which can be used to tell when your computer has contacted a web site. Again, because we do not control the privacy policies of our business affiliates, sponsors or any non-Enerpoint sites to which we may provide hyperlinks, you should check the privacy policy of the site you are visiting if you have any concerns about that site's use of cookies.

Through the EnergyNow.ca site, you will be introduced to a variety of third-party vendors and sites. For example, you can review the services and /or products offered by our sponsors and links are also provided to various industry associations through our site. The privacy policies of these third parties are not under our control. The use of any information that you may provide to any third party will be governed by the privacy policy of the operator of the site that you are visiting, which may differ from ours. As well, in some cases, these third parties may share the information that they collect about your usage with Enerpoint. If you have any doubts about the privacy of the information you are providing, you should look for the privacy policy of the site that you are visiting via a link from that site's home page or elsewhere. If you cannot find that site's privacy policy, or if you are uncertain about the entity to whom you are providing your information, you should contact that site directly for more information.

We may find it necessary to change our privacy policy in the future. If we do decide to change the policy, we will post changes as soon as they go into effect.

Enerpoint's policy is to refrain from supplying Registration Data to third parties. However, Enerpoint reserves the right to (i) use and disclose the Registration Data to generate and distribute demographic reports (including reports on usage patterns of subscribers) and marketing statistics, provided that Enerpoint will not reveal the identity of any user; and (ii) disclose any Registration Data or other information in its possession in cooperation with any law, regulation, or governmental or agency request.
